Mrs. G. W. Redman, Campbellsville, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. O. Russell. Mr. Redman accompanied her to Columbia.

Mr. R. C. Neal, of the Dunville section, was in the News office Monday and stated that the frost had not seriously hurt vegetation in that section.

Mr. C. C. Jones, Middleburg, in company with his son, Herbert, reached Columbia Sunday afternoon. Herbert remains and has entered M. & F. High School.

Mrs. Sarah Flowers and her two daughters left for Salem, Oregon, yesterday morning where they will reside in the future. We commend them to the people of their new home.

Messrs. Geo. W. Miller, Republican candidate for Circuit Judge, Tomkinsville; Henry Vanzant and Q. C. Godbey, Liberty, candidate for Commonwealth's attorney, were here Monday.

Capt. Jas. Howard, who commanded a company in the 13th cavalry, and who was stationed here during the war, was in Columbia last Friday, en route for the reunion at Russell Springs. He resides at Lexington.

Mr. Bert Epperson left Monday for Ira, Iowa to accept a position in the mercantile business of W. Bryan & Son. Mr. Epperson is a straight-forward young man and will prove a good man to his employers. His family accompanied him.

LOCAL JOTTINGS.

L. W. Bennett has a full line of stoves.

For groceries, stoves and fresh meats call on

L. W. BENNETT.

Call on L. W. Bennett for fresh groceries.

Thirteen days until conference convenes in this city.

Soon, ah soon, we will all have preachers and plenty of pious surroundings.

A nice lot of new Fall and Winter ready-to-wear hats at Mrs. Bradshaw's.

Mr. N. S. Mercer purchased two mule colts Saturday, dead matches, for $60 each.

How pleasant it was to sit by a good fire last Friday night and Saturday morning.

Empire Wheat Drills, Disc Hoe for $60.00 cash.

W. F. Jeffries & Son.

Mr. R. D. Tandy bought 6 eggs from Milton Powell, Jr., that averaged 177 pounds at 66.

"Uncle" Solomon Turpen will preach at Gooden's School-house next Sunday at 11 o'clock a. m.

Mrs. C. S. Harris sold a two year old Peacock gelding to Coffey Bros., for $112.

There is not a doubt but that the cemetery needs cleaning off. Go look at it and be convinced.

Mr. Wm. H. Salice brought to town last Saturday some of the finest apples we have seen this season.

Columbia Chapter, No. 7, will meet next Friday night for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year.

Again a busy season is on with the farmers. Cutting corn will soon be at its glory and then comes the sowing of wheat.

The first corn harvester ever purchased in this county was purchased last week by W. T. Dohoney and others of his neighborhood.

The Methodist people have repaired their church and placed a neat wire fence around it which adds much to its appearance.

Mr. C. S. Walkup has removed from Gradyville to the Fesse Mill and will continue the tombstone business at his present location.

At H. K. Walkup's colt show, held last week, Jo Zach Collins got the premium on horse colts and Walter Antle on the mule colts.

Mr. A. V. Taylor, of Indiana, was married last Wednesday to Miss Victoria Sandusky, of this county. The couple will reside in Indiana.

In a short while Columbia will have more live Methodist preachers and more dead chickens than was ever seen in a town of like population.

Just think about the Conference, what a lively time will be in the old town. Forget all your troubles and arrange to have one good week.

Several are due this office word. We are willing to receive it at any time. If you have promised us word bring it on now while the roads are fine.

Strayed, from my premises about the 1st of August a pale red jersey heifer about six months old. Any information will be appreciated. W. B. Hurt, Columbia, Ky.

Mr. J. H. Young has purchased twenty mules in the last few weeks. He paid from $75.50 to $100 per head. He will purchase others and the whole lot will be shipped South.

If you answer an advertisement, seen in the News, whether it be home or foreign, merchant or farmer, just state that you saw it in this paper. It will cost you nothing and is worth much to the people of their new home.

"Look out for me and family. I am coming to the Conference." One wife, two horses and several children. Well, all right come along and you will be treated the best within our power. Columbia is not a walled city.

Miss Edith Bradshaw has been in the wholesale markets of Cincinnati and Louisville for the past two weeks. She will return this week with the nicest and most up-to-date stock of Millinery ever brought to Columbia.

If Mr. G. H. Gowdy will give his pike as much stone all the way as he has given this end, he will have a road that will give genuine satisfaction in winter and no grumbling will be heard. The pike is all right on this end.

Mr. R. W. Allen has purchased the stock of goods at Sano, this county, which was owned by Brockman Bros., and will continue the business at the same stand. Mr. Allen is a good merchant and a very reliable gentleman.

If there are no means to have the cemetery put in better condition, then the city council should make an appropriation for this purpose at its next meeting, or rather, have the work done and then pay for it out of the public funds. Why not the Council do this?

Mr. R. F. Paull has one of the best two year old geldings in all this county now in training by Coffey Bros. He is a Red Squirrel and Mr. Paull says he is the best one he has ever owned, notwithstanding he owns Fox, the six-year old Squirrel gelding for which he has refused $700. Baring accident this colt will prove a great horse in the ring later on.

Judge W. N. Vaughan, a native of Greensburg, but who has been living in Louisville for the past eight years, was married to Miss Daisy Clark, of the Falls City, last Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Vaughan is a lawyer by profession and served, by appointment, as prosecuting attorney of the City Court for several years. At the last election he was the Republican nominee for said office but was defeated. The bride is well known, highly connected, and is a charming young woman. The couple are now in the East.

THE RAILWAY.

The consent of land owners along the line of the Railway to Campbellsville has been given to run the road through their farms. The hitch between here and Cane Valley has been gotten over. It is now known through whose lands the road will run. Attorneys have taken up the task of examining titles to ascertain who are to sign the grants of the right of way. Surveyors will shortly begin their work. What next?

A corporation is to be formed; and to this end it is necessary to know who will take capital stock in the enterprise. Prof. Azbill desires the News to say to its readers that subscriptions for stock may now be made. Persons desiring to subscribe should call on or write to him at Columbia for further information.

There will be two kinds of stock issued. The Capital stock will be in the nature of a permanent investment. It will be issued in shares of not less than five hundred dollars each. It is quite likely that the shares of Capital stock will be one thousand dollars each.

The other kind of stock will be what are called debentures or preferred stock. It will be issued in shares of not less than one hundred dollars each, and will be just such an investment as that of the capitalists who will furnish the main bulk of the funds with which the road will be built. The object of issuing this form of stock will be to enable any of our own citizens who may desire to do so, to take a substantial part in the building and in the earnings of the Railway.

After a certain limit has been reached in bonafide subscriptions, of stock to be paid for in cash, subscriptions to be paid in work or materials to be used in the construction of the road, will be taken. Here will be a chance for even a laborer to take a share or two while earning wages during the construction. Mr. Azbill said in his speech at the court house some days ago, that the chief reason for desiring our own people to invest, is that the $15,000.00 to $18,000.00 of interest on the debt to be incurred would, in case the loan should be made by some capitalists, remain in Adair and Taylor counties; whereas, if the money is obtained from elsewhere, the interest on the debt will go elsewhere—a very good reason.

RE-UNION AT RUSSELL SPRINGS.

The gathering of old soldiers at Russell Springs last Friday and Saturday recalled both pleasant and sad memories. Since their last meeting many who have been accustomed to sit around camp fires annually, and engage in relating war stories, telling of hairbreadth escapes, have answered the "roll call up yonder" and are free from the hardships that earthly strife necessarily brings.

It is the custom at these gatherings for the old soldiers to fall in line, be counted, and at each annual meeting the number grows smaller. Twenty years ago a re-union of Federal soldiers brought a thousand men together, now two hundred is considered a large number, and as the years go by the ranks become thinner, evincing that they are fast passing from the stage of action. The soldiers now living, who fought on either side, during the rebellion, are growing old and stooped, their earthly days at best being but few. The soldiers of both the North and the South fought for what they conceived to be right; were valiant and patriotic to their respective causes.

"I'll fare the land to hastening ill's prey, Where wealth accumulates, and men decay; Princes and lords may perish, or may fade; A breath can make them, as a breath has made; But a bold peasantry, their country's pride, When once destroyed can never be supplied."

At this meeting about one hundred and seventy-five ex-soldiers were present, and of this number but one who fought for the Southern cause was known to be there—Judge W. S. Stone, of Monticello. He addressed the throng Friday afternoon, speaking patriotically of our re-union country, and as he pictured the greatness of the union, hats were lifted and cheers sent up for the speaker.

During the two days session national speeches were made by Capt. John B. Russell, Hon. H. C. Baker, Eld. Tobias Huffaker, Judge Vincent Boring, Hon. M. Ray Yarberty and others.

About five hundred persons attended each day's session, and all present were bountifully fed. It was an occasion of pleasure and will long be remembered. The Russell Springs Brass Band furnished the music. The organization has only been practicing a short time, but they entertained admirably.

ELD. AZBILL'S SERMON.

The sermon preached by Eld. W. K. Azbill last Sunday morning in the Christian church is the kind that appeals to the thoughtful mind; the kind that stimulates all the noble faculties that reach out into the business world as well as in the spiritual. It was directed against slothfulness and idleness and is in the truest sense practical. That idleness breeds troubles innumerable is apparent to all. Its evil consequences have been felt in every community. Industrious application to business, each one to his profession or occupation, constantly and everlastingly at it, brings results that keep the wheels of progress moving. Mr. Azbill's discourse led him to show the duty of capital to labor; that the man of means should provide living employment for those willing to work. His position on this was equal to the declaration that the greatest philanthropist is not the one who dishes out gifts to the people, but the one who opens up avenues of opportunities in the business world, who provides profitable employment for the unemployed.

This is a sentiment, a conviction in which we have long believed. We have never been a believer in the philanthropy of one who has amassed wealth by shrewd business manipulation, by cramping economical methods directed against labor—a reduction to the bare bread and meat game of his employed and then when the race of life is nearly ended, by reason of many years, step to the front with magnificent endowments for institutions of learning, establishing libraries or giving to public charities. To our mind the greatest benefactor to the human race, the greatest giver to his fellow man, is he who opens up employment for those who need it, those who must have it or bring distress and ruin to their homes. In Mr. Azbill's sermon there is a broad field for thought and a broader one for operation. If you would help those who need help then give them profitable employment. A gift of money or goods to one who is able to work is paralyzing to energy and death to ambition. A gift of an opportunity to earn a living, to build up in the business world is inspiring and imparts to the receiver the impulse that transforms the waste places of earth into lands of beauty and profit. To live in the narrow sphere of greed and selfishness, to erect as a motto "rigid economy"—stinginess, is but to block progress, cripple aspirations of others and reduce your surroundings to an unenviable standing. Mr. Azbill is in our community to practice his own teaching and none has a heartier welcome for him, his teaching and his efforts, than we.

The people of this town and county, especially those along the proposed route, ought to show the most liberal action within their power toward the building of the electric road. Why should this be done? Well, as we see it, for the following reasons: It will increase the value of all property in close proximity; it will furnish freight transportation at a much reduced rate both in and out—open up a market for many kinds of timber and materials of this section, now worthless; it will give good, quick and safe passenger transportation and actually tie us on to the business world. Why should any person want damage for the right of way when the road will impart value to the property rather than detract. Many a town and community have played the bluff game at their own loss. The only safe way, the only good business policy to advance the general interest, where capital seeks development, is to invite it and show a liberality equal to the emergency. So far as we know no harm will arise from checking the building of the line from here to Campbellsville. Mr. Azbill has carefully made an eye survey and made measurements of more than one route and finds but little if any difference in them. The people who give the right of way will be the ones who will derive the most benefit from the road. A surveyor will be put to work in a short while and after the road is located your chance is gone. Many a gallon of milk has been spilt, poured out. Many a good opportunity has been rejected and only regrets to follow. The people along the proposed routes should be at work.

Mrs. Sarah E. Montgomery, wife of Mr. June Montgomery, who has been in a feeble state of health for the last six months, died last Friday morning. Her death was not expected at that time as she was considered to be much better and the family had hopes of her recovery. She was sitting in a chair when death came and was the result of dropsy. Mrs. Montgomery was a daughter of J. J. Epperson and was about 44 years of age. She was a consistent member of the Christian church. She leaves a husband and a son to whom we extend our sympathy.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Circuit court opened last Monday, Judge W. W. Jones on the bench. The only business transacted the first day was the instructions delivered to the grand jury. The afternoon was taken up by political speakers. A large crowd was in town and all classes of business very good.

The following gentlemen comprise the grand jury: Henry Bryant, J. J. Hunter, W. W. Brockman, G. T. Flowers, Evac T. Keltner, W. H. Hite, L. C. Hurt, Jo P. Coffey, R. K. Young, C. E. Claycomb, J. N. Petty, N. H. Moss, foreman.

The city council in its meeting last Wednesday night, decided to sell the franchise for electric lights and the building and operation of an electric railroad within the corporate limits of this town. At the next regular meeting, on the 17th, the council will submit terms and sell at public auction the aforesaid franchises. The council is not slow to see the importance of such a step and will doubtless make as liberal concessions as could be expected to advance the interest of this community. We are glad to see the council equal to any emergency, progressive, liberal and safe. Tight-listed methods backed by baby timidity and fears have never brought good results to any community.

I have returned from Louisville and Cincinnati where I purchased a beautiful line of Fall and Winter Millinery which will be on display Sept. 20th. I ask all ladies of Adair and adjoining counties to come and examine my stock before buying elsewhere. I also secured one of the best trimmers in the city with six years of experience and am prepared to give entire satisfaction. The lady to whom I refer has been connected with a large establishment, hence is in touch with all the latest designs. Be sure and call at my store.

BIRDIE POWELL.

COLUMBIA, KY., Sept. 12, 1902. MR. J. N. LINDLY, Gen'l. Agt., McCormick Division, International Harvester Co., Louisville, Ky.

Dear Sir: Your Mr. Geo. H. Harrod started one of your McCormick Corn Harvesters on our place today. It does nice, good work, really much better than we expected. It makes nice even butted bundles and handles the corn evenly and straight.

Yours truly,

J. P. DOHONEY & BROS.

While at Russell Springs last Saturday we met our old friend, Mr. George Warren, who is known to all the people in Columbia. He has a comfortable home but is a great sufferer from wounds received during the war. Some months ago he thought seriously of having one of his lower limbs removed, and in order to prolong his life, the operation may yet have to be performed. He is a good citizen and it is hoped that he may live many more years.

Some time ago the News stated that the oldest violin in this country was in the possession of a gentleman in Russell county, but Mr. Emmet Goode, of Casey Creek, this county, has one made in 1721 about six years before the Russell county violin was brought into existence. This violin is in good condition and yet contains thousands of sweet and charming pieces.

A few weeks ago Mrs. Eliza Roberts and Miss Mary E. Morrison left their homes in Adair county for Texas. They stated that they would be absent several weeks. Now comes the news that both of the ladies were married soon after reaching their destination, the former to Mr. Robert Rudd, formerly of Adair county, and the latter to a gentleman named Jeter.

The coming Conference has already been worth much to the church going people of this town, as it has been the main incentive to put all the church property in good condition. If after it convenes and finishes its work the membership of all the churches would be put in as good condition as the houses of worship it would be a remarkable gathering for good.

Mrs. Mariah S. Cofer lost her dwelling and all its contents last Wednesday night. The origin of the fire is unknown. She had $500 insurance but the limitation of sixty days had not expired and the full amount of insurance may not be paid.

I will sell my home place, consisting of 80 acres near Epperson's mill, eight miles from town. Good buildings and good land in high state of cultivation. W. F. JEFFRIES, Columbia, Ky.

The examining trial of Dr. J. J. Booker for killing Henry E. Christie will take place at Greensburg next Saturday.

Frost has done some damage in this locality.

TO THE LADIES.

On Friday, Sept. 19th, we will have an expert at our store who will exhibit the famous "Standard Sewing Machine" and will do all kinds of work and fancy sewing. Ladies are invited to see this exhibition.

RUSSELL & MURRELL.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

J. W. Dixon sold to N. B. East last week, the farm upon which he has been living, known as a portion of the Henry Cundiff lands, for $375.

Joseph M. Turner and wife, who reside on Green river, conveyed to Wm. L. Russell, one day last week, 250 acres of land including a good residence for $2,400.

J. J. Biggs purchased of Joel Turpen, who resides on the Curd farm, near town, two acres of ground fronting the pike, for $200. Mr. Biggs will build a residence upon the lot.

FOR RENT.

A desirable residence, eight rooms with closets, pantries, etc. Water at the door, garden, pasture and good out-buildings. In sight of the public square—for rent to a reliable tenant. Call on or address,

MRS. NONA CARELL, Columbia, Ky.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS.

Taxes for the year 1902 are past due and all who have not paid must come forward and pay at once and save cash as I am bound to have the money immediately.

Respectfully,

F. W. MILLER, S. A. C.

FOR SALE.

Ninety acres of land in high state of cultivation with plenty of good water, 25 acres in timber six miles east of Columbia. Call on W. F. JEFFRIES, Columbia, or W. A. BRADSHAW, Montpelier, Ky.

Sometime ago our Kniffley correspondent mentioned the fact that J. M. Hancock, 27 years of age, reared in that section and who has resided there all the while had never been in Columbia. Last Monday Mr. Hancock came to town and called on the News and stated that he was pleased with the general appearance of this city. Mr. Hancock has been in other towns but failed to come to Columbia simply from the fact that he had no business here. He is an industrious young man devoted to the interest of an agricultural life. Before leaving Columbia he left a subscription for the News.

The corn crop of this county has reached the stage where a conservative estimate can be made and while in some sections the crop is excellent, in others the yield will not be equal to an average crop. From what we can learn the entire crop will probably fall a little below a good average but much better than last year.

We understand that Mr. L. T. Winfrey will be a candidate for the Republican nomination to represent this and Cumberland county in the next General Assembly. Mr. Winfrey is an active Republican and has a considerable acquaintance throughout the county. His interest and work for his party in the past will make him a formidable candidate in Republican circles.

Several weeks ago we stated there was no truth in the report that Mart Damon, a former citizen of Adair county, had shot and killed himself in Missouri. This week a letter has reached the office from Mr. Damon's daughter, asking that the report be corrected. Mr. Damon is in good health and has had trouble with no one.

Dick Tandy bought two mule colts o Willie Smith at $75 and sold the same to John Diddle for $80. John Diddle also bought a mule colt of W. J. Conover at $75. The above colts were by Coffey Bros. jack.

News has just reached here that Miss Mary Turpen, this city, was married to a Mr. Forth, in Campbellsville yesterday. They will reside in Pulaski county.

We will pay 124c for eggs, 40c for prime feathers and 4c for prime dried apples.

RUSSELL & MURRELL.

Coffey Bros. bought Monday five good horses ranging in price from $103 to $165 and a sugar mule for $135.

Columbia High School boys and the Milltown nine will cross bats at the latter place next Saturday.

Miss Mary Ann Earls, a maiden lady of Pellyton, died of pneumonia, fever last Monday morning.

A job requiring $60.00 worth of postal cards is being done at this office.

FROM COLUMBIA TO RICHMOND.

EDITOR NEWS:

RICHMOND, KY., Sept. 10, I thought while resting from my trip to "drap" you a line about it. I started out on my journey on Monday the 8th and reached Dunville at 10 o'clock. At Dunville everything seemed to be quiet. Henry Aarons was there looking after his farming interests. He has a fine farm and a fine crop, and Henry seems to be in good spirits.

The next city of importance was Yosemite—most people pronounce it with three syllables—Yo-se-mite, with the accent on the last—Yo-sem-ite, sounds more euphonious and some of the citizens call it that way. It was once a railroad town, and ruins of its departed splendor is to be seen still, along the line of the old railroad. I do not know why the railroad ceased to exist, and went out of business. When the railroad did go out of Commission, the city ceased to grow. They have now a finished town. The houses all look like their glory had departed. Before passing out of Yosemite we go into Middleburg. So poorly is the dividing line drawn, that we do not know where one ends, and the other begins. Middleburg, however, is a better town. It looks more lively—its houses are in better shape, and there is more life about it.

The next town of importance that I saw is McKinney. It is out on the Cincinnati Southern Railroad, and has the appearance of supporting good trade. The land round about it is valuable for farming purposes, and the citizens seem well to do. I spent the night with my friend, Carley Epperson, who seems to be a prosperous farmer, and has a very interesting family. I passed Stanford early next morning, without any halt, and next I reached Lancaster, and passed through it. These towns are both in what is called the blue grass country. I would not have known this if I had not been told. There is not as much difference between the blue-grass and the penny-rile as we have been taught to believe. The blue-grass, perhaps, make some better or fatter cattle, while the penny-rile makes better milk and butter. But with all my looking I could not tell when I left the penny-rile and reached the blue-grass—Like coons, it all looked alike to me.

I reached Richmond at precisely 3 o'clock, in the afternoon, having been on the road from Columbia just seven-teen hours.

What I have to say of Richmond I will reserve for another time. I found all well.

U. L. TAYLOR.

The interest in the development of the oil productions of Cumberland county is good and every thing indicates that considerable work will be done there in the near future. Two oil men from Pennsylvania passed through this town last week who had spent some time in that county and they stated to a News man that they were highly pleased and that they would return later for the purpose of acquiring territory and developing it. We trust that the good work will proceed and that the expectations of the most sanguine will be realized.

Mr. A. S. Stapleton was in to see us last Monday. He brought a new subscriber as usual. He also brought a few sample ears of his corn crop which are as fine as is usually seen. The ears left with us are unusually large and well filled. Mr. Stapleton stated that his entire crop would about run up to the sample shown us. Such corn is not common to every community and we are glad to state that the crop is an unusually good one on Green river.

The farm of the late Oscar Pile is now for sale and unless sold by the 15th of October will be sold at public outcry on that date. It is one of the most desirable homes in Adair county. Good soil, good buildings, and all of the desirable features of a good community, just three miles from Columbia.

J. W. HURT, } Admr's.

The corn shredder bought by Dohoney Brothers, W. B. Rowe and J. N. Conover, was tested here Monday and it worked to perfection. It shucks the corn and tears up the stalk so that the entire plant can be used for the feed of stock. The purchasers are highly pleased. It is made by the Deering Harvester Company and sold by W. F. Jeffries & Sons. Elsewhere mention is made of the purchase of a corn harvester by W. T. Dohoney. We understand that it was bought by Dohoney Bros., that they have put it to work and are highly pleased. This machine is made by The McCormack people and sold by Tim Bradshaw, agent.

T. R. Morrison, Jamestown, was in Columbia yesterday.
